I am Puuung. I am creating illustrations & short animations about what love is.

Love is a material that anyone can relate to and I feel that love is something that emits light from the small things in daily life. I work to find hidden meanings in these daily lives and translate them into illustrations and animations.

I would like to thank all of you for your sympathy about the meaning of love that I'm looking for in daily lives and for telling me you could find yourself in my drawing. I think I've been able to create them so far because of your attention and sympathy. And of course, I am going to keep drawing for you as long as I can. So I continue to need your support. Your support makes it possible for me to keep drawing to find the meaning of love.
